

Reality is an extremely popular delusion

“

- The self is nothing but an illusion built from mental programming
- All of life is simply a magnificent illusion created by your mind
- The only true judge of success is when it is put to test in the market
- There is not one definitive right and wrong just what is popular belief
- Physical science is illusion, quantum science is the minds material
- The victim has a story about why they can't. The winner has no story.
- Every action has an equal and opposite reaction. Inside reflects outside.
- It doesn't matter what is true, only what you believe is true because with work that will become true

-Sam Ovens