

Learning to see the matrix

With sales calls, funnels and Facebook ads, there comes a time when you've been doing it for long enough, it's like you've developed a “sixth sense”.

It's like time slows down, the numbers start speaking to you, you can see the matrix and you know where to press to make something pop out and appear.

When you learn to see these things and can feel them in your bones, you can't be afraid to come on strong and bet BIG.
